Special Issue:

Selected Papers from ICPLA 1999 edited by Nicole Müller

Preface: Papers from ICPLA 1999	1
Patterns in the acquisition of the Welsh lateral fricative M. J. Ball, N. Müller and S. Munro	3
A preliminary typology of initial clusters in acquisition J. A. Barlow	9
New insights from optimality theory for acquisition D. A. Dinnsen	15
A model of lexical diffusion in phonological acquisition J. A. Gierut	19
Conflicting phonologically based and phonetically based constraints in the analysis of liquid-nasal substitutions D. Gilbers	23
Promotion and demotion of phonological constraints in the acquisition of the Japanese liquid I. Ueda and S. Davis	29
Phonemic awareness of coda consonants and sonority in bilingual children M. S. Yavas and C. W. Core	35
Treatment for phonologically disordered children with variable substitution patterns K. Forrest and M. Elbert	41
Influence of chronic otitis media on phonological acquisition A. W. Miccio, E. Gallagher, C. B. Grossman, K. M. Yont and L. Vernon-Feagans	47
When is a cluster not a cluster? K. M. O'Connor	53
Phoneme discrimination and phoneme identification in French language-impaired and normally-developing children M. Plaza and M.-T. Rigoard	57
Characteristics of mazes produced by SLI children M. I. Navarro-Ruiz and L. Rallo-Fabra	63

Compensatory strategies in SLI M. R. Perkins	67
Unconstrained oral naming abilities of right-hemisphere damaged individuals: a qualitative and time-course analysis N. Beausoleil, L. Monetta, B. Leblanc and Y. Joanne	73
Context as a resource for the construction of turns at talk in aphasia S. Beeke, R. Wilkinson and J. Maxim	79
The processing of prosodic patterns in patients with unilateral brain lesions A. Geigenberger and W. Ziegler	85
Intelligibility and rehearsed sequences in conversations with a DAT patient J. A. Guendouzi and N. Müller	91
A preliminary study of the effects of sub thalamic nucleus (STN) deep brain stimulation (DBS) on voice and speech characteristics in Parkinson's Disease (PD) B. Hoffman-Ruddy, G. Schulz, J. Vitek and M. Evatt	97
Phonetics versus phonology?—Voicing impairment in anterior aphasia: preliminary results of acoustic analyses I. Janus	103
A preliminary study of the effects of pallidotomy surgery upon voice onset time in persons with Parkinson's disease J. Ryalls, B. Hoffman-Ruddy, J. Vitek and A. Owens	107
The role of attention in apraxic errors M. H. Southwood and P. Dagenais	113
Age and gender effects on measures of RMS nasalance S. N. Awan	117
A stumbling block in the development of motor theories of speech: relating EMG to force-related changes in articulation V. J. Boucher	123
Speech rate in cleft lip and palate speakers with compensatory articulation T. Bressmann and R. Sader	129
The realization of affricates in a group of individuals with atypical speech production: a perceptual and instrumental study S. Howard	133
Coarticulation in fricative-vowel syllables produced by children and adults: a preliminary report W. F. Katz and S. Bharadwaj	139

Coarticulation within and between syllables by children with developmental apraxia of speech B. Maassen, L. Nijland and S. van der Meulen	145
Acoustic correlates of phonetic correction V. Mildner and J. Bakran	151
Speech motor learning: preliminary data G. M. Schulz, L. Stein and R. Micallef	157
Searching for the neural basis of stuttering treatment outcome: recent neuroimaging studies L. F. De Nil and R. M. Kroll	163
The effect of speech clinician race and Afro-American students' cultural mistrust on clinician-child conversation S. L. Terrell, R. Daniloff, M. Garden, L. Flint-Shaw and T. Flowers	169

NUMBER 3 APRIL-MAY

The effects of flattening fundamental frequency contours on sentence intelligibility in speakers with dysarthria K. Bunton, R. D. Kent, J. F. Kent and J. R. Duffy	181
Aspects of non-native pronunciation in a case of altered accent following stroke (foreign accent syndrome) J. Dankovičová, J. M. Gurd, J. C. Marshall, M. K. C. MacMahon, J. Stuart-Smith, J. S. Coleman and A. Slater	195
Phonological disorders and stuttering in children: what is the frequency of co-occurrence? M. A. Nippold	219
Analysing aphasia treatment sessions A. Ferguson and N. Elliot	229
Speaking F_0 characteristics of elderly Euro-American and African-American speakers: building a clinical comparative platform S. A. Xue, R. Neeley, F. Hagstrom and J. Hao	245
Book reviews	253

NUMBER 4 JUNE

Omissions of obligatory relative markers in children with specific language impairment C. M. Schuele and L. Tolbert	257
Prosody-voice characteristics of children and adults with apraxia of speech K. H. Odell and L. D. Shriberg	275
Speaking rate and its components in dysarthric speakers M. Nishio and S. Niimi	309
Identification and discrimination of voicing and place-of-articulation in developmental dyslexia B. Maassen, P. Groenen, T. Crul, C. Assman-Hulsmans and F. Gabreëls	319
Book review	341

NUMBER 5 JULY-AUGUST

An investigation of phonological skills in Puerto Rican Spanish-speaking 2-year-olds B. Goldstein and P. Cintrón	343
The development of speech production following cochlear implantation P. Blamey, J. Barry, C. Bow, J. Sarant, L. Paatsch and R. Wales	363
The influence of acquired dysarthria on conversational turn-taking P. Conrie, C. Mackenzie and J. McCall	383
About time: a comparison of computerized and manual procedures for grammatical and phonological analysis S. H. Long	399

NUMBER 6 SEPTEMBER

Using prosody to resolve temporary syntactic ambiguities in speech production: acoustic data on brain-damaged speakers S. R. Baum, M. D. Pell, C. L. Leonard and J. K. Gordon	441
An item analysis of Australian English words for an articulation and phonological test for children aged 2 to 7 years D. G. H. James	457
Stuttering and lexical retrieval A. Packman, M. Onslow, T. Coombes and A. Goodwin	487
Book review	499

NUMBER 7 OCTOBER-NOVEMBER

Clinical research with the prosody-voice screening profile J. L. McSweeney and L. D. Shriberg	505
Intonation issues in the speech of hearing impaired children: analysis, transcription and remediation R. O'Halpin	529
Dysprosody in Parkinson's disease: an investigation of intonation patterns H. Penner, N. Miller, I. Hertrich, H. Ackermann and F. Schumm	551
Imitation of intonation contours by children with normal and disordered language development D. Snow	567
Fundamental frequency patterns in cerebral palsied speech J. van Doorn and C. Sheard	585

- Acoustic phenotypes for speech-genetics studies: reference data for residual /ʒ/ distortions
P. Flipsen, Jr, L. D. Shriberg, G. Weismer, H. B. Karlsson and J. L. McSweeney 603
- Acoustic phenotypes for speech-genetics studies: an acoustic marker for residual /ʒ/ distortions
L. D. Shriberg, P. Flipsen, Jr, H. B. Karlsson and J. L. McSweeney 631
- Changes in linguistic variables during operant, laboratory control of stuttering in children
M. Onslow, N. B. Ratner and A. Packman 651
- Linguistic features in palilalia: two case studies
J. Van Borsel, L. Schelpe, P. Santens, N. De Vos and C. De Vos 663
